

Rate the media
Open Lab

Instructions

In this exercise, you'll create a web page for rating a video. The page will display a video player with playback controls. There will also be a HTML form for rating the video. The form will contain a slider element to rate video between 1 out of 5 and 5 out of 5.

Instructions

Step 1: First add a video element to the body element of the HTML document. Apply the controls attribute to enable playback controls.

Step 2: The width of the video will be 320 and the height will be 240. Apply the corresponding attributes to the video element.

Step 3: Next, add a source element to the video element.

Step 4: Set the src attribute of the source element to video.mp4 and the type attribute to video/mp4.

Step 5: After the video element add a form element.

Step 6: Add a div element to the form for the rating field.

Step 7: In the div element, add a label for the rating. Set the for attribute to rating.

Step 8: After the label, add an input element and set its type attribute to range.

Step 9: Set the id and name attributes to rating.

Step 10: Set the min attribute to 1 and the max attribute to 5.

Step 11: Set the list attribute value to ratings.

Step 12: After the input element, add a datalist element. Set its id attribute to ratings.

Step 13: Inside the datalist element, add five option elements.

Step 14: On the first option element, set its value attribute to 1 and its label attribute to 1.

Step 15: On the second option element, set its value attribute to 2.

Step 16: On the third option element, set its value attribute to 3.

Step 17: On the fourth option element, set its value attribute to 4.

Step 18: On the last option element, set its value attribute to 5 and its label attribute to 5.

Step 19: After the div element, add a button element and set its text to Submit Rating. Set the type attribute to submit.

Step 20: Save the HTML document and open Live Preview.

Note The video playback and dropdown selection element is not supported in Live Preview.

Step 21: Click the play button on the video and note the result.

Tips

- Review the Embedded Players lesson if you get stuck adding the video player.
- Review your cheat sheets from the previous week if you get stuck creating the form.

When the exercise is completed, the web page should match the following image.

Rating